Caravan is in good condition overall and needs very little attention at all. The wall paper started coming off or loosening and I have started removing most of it, just not getting time to finish and refit new wall paper. The caravan is currently being used like it is and actually looks good without the original wall paper with the wooden finish. If you feel like spending about R1000 to fix up the paper which I started come view and decide for yourself. This van is worth approximately R95000-00 when done. I will send pics to those requesting.
