I don't have the space for the trailer anymore since I moved and so need to sell it.

It has a large load-box of 2200 x 1500 and was based on a boat trailer so can take fairly heavy loads. Yes, it is not the most beautiful but it was made to be functional and not as a show piece and it gets the job done.

The tailgate can open normally or as a ramp so a motorcycle or quad can easily be loaded. The tailgate does not have any sheet-metal yet so that will still have to be added before it can be used as a ramp and a piece of chain still needs to be added to the front to hook over the.
