The 60D has been in the market for a few years now, and is equipped with enough features to make it a handy entry level DSLR. Its got a great metering system and a powerful sensor. The 1.04-million-dot LCD screen is fully pivoting and the screen can be turned completely around to spare it from scratches when not in use. The battery is also one of the strengths of the camera, and easily offers upto 1100 shots. One disappointment is the continuous shooting speed, which is a bit slow at 5.3 frames per second. EOS 60D has full HD movie capture, which operates smoothly and captures excellent.
