The blu-ray player is in excellent condition.

On the Blu-ray side, the BD-J7500 plays 3D Blu-ray discs and offers 4K (2160p) upscaling, or you can upscale DVDs to 1080p if youâ€™re the sort of person who prefers the player to do the donkey work, not the TV. Thereâ€™s also support for 7.1-channel Dolby True HD and DTS HD Master Audio soundtracks (bitstream output and built-in decoding).

The key to the deckâ€™s online functionality is the inclusion of built-in dual-band Wi-Fi, which allows it to operate on the 5GHz frequency as well as the 2.4GHz frequency used by most routers. Youâ€™ll need a dual-band router, but it will mean you can look forward to a lack of interference from other devices and less crowding from other Wi-Fi networks.
