Almost never used (reason for selling). Comes with Optics - Airgun specific Guerrilla 4x32 with AO and bi-pod.

Very accurate.

Specs:

The Hammerli Firefox 500 cal. 4.5 mm air rifle with an output of 7.5 J is suitable for young shooters. The air rifle is equipped with Tru-Glo fiber optic sights, the sights can be adjusted both vertically and horizontally. An automatic safety after cocking the rifle, on the muzzle, there is a design compensator with a weaver rail 22 mm to which a bipod can be attached. A designed molded polymer stock with a rubber recoil pad at the end to comfortably rest against your arm. An 11 mm mounting rail for mounting optics.

The excellent air rifle Hammerli Firefox 500 cal. 4.5 mm with low energy, which will also allow younger shooters to cock it and gently fire without being kicked into the arm. A very friendly and attractive look that will appeal to not just one young shooter. Keep in mind that with this air rifle, a person over the age of 18 must supervise!

Tru-Glo Sights

Tru-Glo is the name for a system of light guides installed in the sights (the name comes from the English word True and Glow). It is a special fiber optic collecting light from the environment that is connected into a single point and it acts as if it shone with its own resource. Since light is not powered by any internal resources and is drawn from the environment, it also works well in adverse weather, at dusk or in dark rooms. Visual inspection of these points is incredibly simple, fast and little tiring for the eyes, so that in a crisis situation resp. sports, the shooter does not have to try to focus, thus he loses less time and can be more active.
