What does NitroOBD2 make?

According to your driving style, NitroOBD2 makes a new map in the car's computer ECU to increase the performance of your carâ€™s engine. As you driving much more kmâ€™s, NitroOBD2 renews the map and adjusts itself to keep your carâ€™s power and torque increasing.

What is NitroOBD2 Chip Tuning Box?

NitroOBD2 is a Chip Tuning Box which can be plugged into the OBD2 connector of your car to increase the performance of your car.

It is suggested that the OBD2 connector NitroOBD2 is plugged into the car's computer ECU. With the collected data from the ECU, NitroOBD2 adjusts the best time, sure, of the timing, and pressure to increase the performance of your car. NitroOBD2 Chip Tuning Box does not require any manual adjustments, it works only with the tolerance of the engine.

NitroOBD2 finds out the hidden power of your car and does not damage the engine and the carâ€™s computer ECU or not cause any negative effects to your carâ€™s factory settings. NitroOBD2 does not change any of the settings permanently. To turn back to the car's original settings, just unplug NitroOBD2 from the OBD2 connector.
